

Report to the Community

Mission: We strive to put an end to sexual and domestic violence and advocate for personal and societal change through crisis intervention and education.

Highlights:

In 2009, SafePlace provided:

- 5,911 hours of domestic violence and sexual assault advocacy—equivalent to 246 days worth of time!
- 266 people received shelter, 116 of whom were under the age of 17
- 270 people attended an English or Spanish-speaking support group
- 74 people received sexual assault medical advocacy
- 256 people attended the legal clinic
- 171 adults received walk-in advocacy services at our community services office
- 3,301 calls to the 24-hour crisis line were answered

The Community Services team visited rural Thurston County, including the city of Rainier, to be sure everyone has our information available.

In her voice:

"Thank you for being here.

Your legal clinics have been a help to me and my experience with you has been nothing but good. From over the phone safety planning to your visibility in the community, you have given me a sense of support. This support has been a powerful gift as a reminder that I am not alone while on the "front lines" of my personal battle to stand for good against the many wrongs under the huge umbrella of domestic violence.

Thank you for empowering victims to not accept excuses and rationales that our society so often defaults to in its effort to understand how one person can abuse another."

SafePlace staff gear up for our "Art Heals the Heart" Artswalk exhibit in Spring 2009.

Growing into our future

Mary Pontarolo, Executive Director

Mary and her dog Hailey

It is with great excitement that we look into the future. "Why?" you might ask. Because SafePlace is embarking on an exciting new capital project that will help us grow our critically needed sexual and domestic violence prevention services within our community and provide permanent, supportive housing for survivors of violence.

SafePlace has begun a capital campaign to build a new community services office, slated for groundbreaking in the fall of 2011, with the opening in 2012. This new building will allow for us to better serve community members, offer more education and training, and highlight our prevention work. It is guaranteed to be exciting, so stay tuned for more!
